

Canadian Council on Africa
Conseil Canadien pour l'Afrique

Who we are

The Canadian Council on Africa (CCAfrica) is the only pan-Canadian organization dedicated to the economic development of Africa. With over 140 members active in every sector of the economy - including education, engineering, infrastructure, natural resources, energy, finance, legal, consulting, communications, information technology, manufacture, agri-food, environment, sustainable development and health - CCAfrica is at the forefront of Canada's economic relationship with Africa. CCAfrica is also concerned by diplomatic relations & social development of Africa.

Our Vision

To become Canada's leading organization committed to the economic development of a modern competitive Africa.

Our Mission

To facilitate and promote sustainable increased trade and investment between Canadian and African private and public sectors, according to appropriate corporate social responsibility (CSR) guidelines, for the mutual benefit of all. Our mission is also to promote success stories about Africa and to contribute promoting the promising signs observed recently on the African continent such as economic growth acceleration and the new commitment demonstrate by the African leaders.

What does CCAfrica have to offer?

African News Clipping Service

The African News Clipping Service (ANCS) is a “fee-for-service” that is sent to all subscribers every business morning which lists Africa’s economic news from various news sources from across the world.

Clipping are selected based on their relevance to the economic situation and business environment that affect both locally and international affairs and relations. Important reports, publications and documentations are also referenced within the daily ANCS. A weekly compilation of editorials and African based scientific and technological articles are included. Each news clipping is identified by their region, title and the first few lines with a link to access the complete article.

Business Development Service

The Business Development Service is a “member service” which reports on new international tender bids and business opportunities and from 53 African countries. On a daily basis, our BDS team researches and edits strategic business intelligence from sources all around the globe. These include many national and international funding agencies, Canadian embassies and Trade Commissioners in Africa and selected international and local papers.

Sourced from over 50 separate organizations, we have distributed over 10,000 opportunities since its start on June 2006. In order to effectively deliver the information to our members, weekly bulletins are divided into 11 distinct categories.

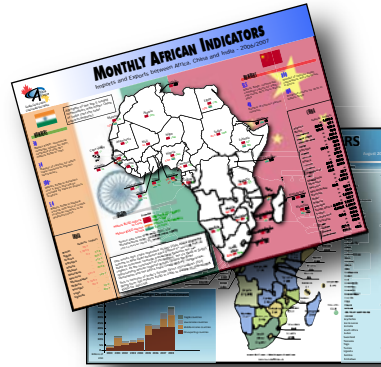

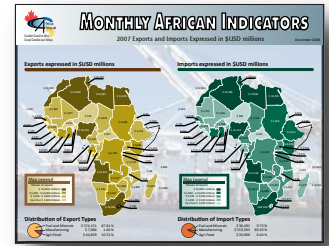

Newsletters

CCAfrica publishes a newsletter that offers a large variety of information related to Africa; CCAfrica’s events and activities, it’s members’ news and CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility) activities, and the nominations of African ambassadors to Canada and Canadians to Africa.

Monthly African Indicators

Members receive a quick-to-read one page synopsis of recent economic data on Africa that will help them assess market conditions across the continent.

This timely information compares, when available, the current and past data with a quick evaluation of noteworthy changes that occurred.

Activities and Events
